mamiSakama is a Japanese contemporary Artist and Filmmaker.

She create collages by layering small pieces of paper cut from videos and photographs.

This technique allows me to express a world of particles that resembles a paused video. Themes include invisible boundaries, such as nationality and gender, as well as social turmoil.

The work records the present moment while traveling between the past and the future. She is also active as a video artist, recording fake documentaries and physical expressions on the theme of identity.

Tokyo University of the Arts, Graduate School of Fine Arts, Department of Advanced Art Expression.
